Provisionals Honored by Junior Board

Executive Board of the Torrance Junior Woman's Club honored its provisionals at a dessert social on Sept. 25 at the home of Mrs. Richard Reynolds, second vice president.

Following the club theme, "Time Waits for No One," decorations consisted of clocks, calendars, and a "tree of activities" for the 1963-64 club year. Each board member brought her favorite dessert. Games, to get acquainted, were played.

Provisionals honored were Mmes. Don Schu, Robert F. Clark, Carleson R. Hunn, Frank Getz, Wayne Zachow, Ralph Brubaker, Richard Browne, John Bailey, Eric V. Crozier, Robert Schmidt, and Robert McKenzie.

Attending from the Torrance Woman's Club was Mrs. J. G. Laird, junior coordinator.

Juniors on hand to welcome the provisionals were Mmes. Carl Messmer, James Misel, Richard Denno, Robert Valencia, Richard Oliver, R. A. Newlun, Frank Taylor, Jack Dean.

Grooming to Be Featured in New Y Classes

A Trim-Slim Club is being formed for all girls who would like to learn how to groom themselves for a better appearance. Miss Vicky Rains of Fleming Junior High is urging all girls to come to the Torrance YWCA, 2320 W. Carson St., Torrance, on Wednesday, Oct. 23, from 7 to 8 p.m. to learn all about the new club. They will have weekly "weigh ins," measure, exercise for posture, improve the figure and learn the secrets of grooming. There will also be lots of fun activities during the year.

For further information and registration, the YWCA may be called.

13th Birthday Celebrated

Debbie Agapito, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Agapito, celebrated her 13th birthday on Sept. 27. Debbie accompanied by two friends, Tracy Wright and Carol Gordy, and her brother, Vince, were treated to an evening at Pacific Ocean Park by her parents. On another evening Debbie was guest of honor at a slumber party given by six of her Meadowpark school friends.

go bowling with him. Maurine said, "I just knew you'd be thrilled for me so I said yes." I was pretty burned up at being ditched and I want your opinion of her.—STOOD UP

Dear Up: Maurine overestimated you. If you were truly her friend you'd have been happy for her instead of "burned up."

Maurine should have told Ricky, however, that she had a previous date with you and turned him down. He would have been twice as eager to take her out next weekend—and she would have lost nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's sister telephoned us last Sunday from somewhere in Montana. The whole family was heading this way, en route to Springfield, and planned to arrive Tuesday or Wednesday, depending on roads, weather and so on. We said we'd be happy to put them up—all six of them.

Tuesday evening my husband and I decided to go to a band concert. When we got home about 11:30 we were shocked to find the weary travelers asleep on the porch furniture. When we woke them up my sister-in-law was very uppity. She said, "We telephoned so you'd be expecting us. This is a lovely welcome."

They left the next day and I feel very guilty. Should we have stayed home and waited for them?—G and H

Dear G and H: No. Guests who cannot be specific about their arrival time should not be unhappy if the red rug isn't out around the clock. Forget it.

Confidential to UNHAPPY BRIDE-TO-BE: The reason they don't accept him is because you talked too much. Lady. You "Damned with faint praise, and without sneering, taught the rest to sneer." Start to repair the situation NOW.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Another baby on the way? If you plan to have cherub #1 spend your hospital time at grandmother's, it's a good idea to let him (or her) try a couple of overnight visits during the last part of your waiting period. Comes the day of your departure, he will have become accustomed to the idea and will probably accept it more readily.

Bedtime story. If your youngest child is still using the crib, you'll want to transfer him to a regular bed well before the arrival of the newcomer. (If you have to give a reason for the move, try the bit about being more "grown-up" now.) By giving your child time to get used to the new bed, he'll be less likely to resent the newcomer taking over the crib.

Tactful tactics. You can often diminish resistance to the new baby by suggesting that big brother or sister share in the care of the "intruder." Jealousy can also be held in abeyance by saving billing and cooing over the new baby for times when junior's out of sight.

Special information dept. When baby is ready for strained foods, it should be reassuring to know that when you give him Gerber, you give him quality. All Gerber Baby Foods are "custom-cooked" according to their own requirements. This simply means that different foods require different cooking methods to insure tasteful, nourishing products. But whatever method is used, cooking times and temperatures are controlled to protect flavors and colors and preserve the utmost in precious food values. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Mich.

Early words. As you know, one of the earliest additions to a new baby's all-milk diet is a special baby juice to provide vitamin C. You may have started your first child on orange juice. But do you know that Gerber Apple Juice is also an ideal start-
